Office Hours: MTW 11-12

Course Texts: Welch and Duffield, eds., Caesar, Invasion of Britain
LaFleur, ed., Love and Transformation: An Ovid Reader

Grading:	Participation	15%
	Tests	35%
	Quizzes	15%
	Final exam	35%

General Course Information:

1. There will be a test approximately every two weeks. Make-up tests will only be administered for excused absences.
2. There will be many short quizzes. No make-up quizzes will be given, but your two lowest quiz grades will be dropped.
3. There will be a final, cumulative examination on Wednesday, 17 December, 8-11 am.
4. The Classics department provides free tutors for Latin students in 246 Park Hall. A schedule will be distributed as soon as possible.
5. All academic work must meet the standards contained in “A Culture of Honesty.” Students are responsible for informing themselves about those standards before performing any academic work.
6. The course syllabus is a general plan for the course; deviations announced to the class by the instructor may be necessary.

Course Requirements:

1. Class attendance and participation are essential. You must keep up with the assigned homework. Anyone habitually absent may be dropped from the course at my discretion.
2. Each day you will be considered either:
 - Prepared (on time and have completed homework assignment), or
 - Unprepared (in class but without homework assignment), or
 - Absent

At the beginning of each class, you will sign a sheet indicating whether you are Prepared (worth 2 points) or Unprepared (worth 1 point). In order to count yourself Prepared, you must be in class, you must have attempted to complete ALL the homework exercises and assigned translation, and you must give those answers if called upon. Your answers and translations do NOT have to be correct—but you must make an attempt.

If you are Unprepared, I will not call on you in class for homework translation. You will be asked to participate in other class activities, however. Please attend class even if you are Unprepared.
