MA in Classical Languages in Latin, Greek, or Latin and Greek

MA in Latin (non-thesis)
designed for Latin teachers

Students are eligible for full tuition remission and a stipend

UGA Classics offers fully funded two-year MA Degrees in a rigorous and collegial atmosphere. Our program is perfect for students who wish to prepare themselves for PhD programs in Classics, who plan to become Latin teachers, or who simply want to continue their Classics education before pursuing a different career. Students choose between the MA in Classical Languages, which culminates in a thesis, or the MA in Latin, which culminates in a teaching project. Both degrees emphasize careful attention to language, culture, and ancient language pedagogy. Students learn to write crisply, think critically, and work in teams.
